The Master Jou, Tsung Hwa Birthday Celebration And Tai Chi Festival 2020

You don't want to miss this!

This year due to the pandemic we are presenting all the great workshops by high level teachers online in an amazing FREE live streaming and video event. Normally this event happens on the grounds of the famous Tai Chi Park in Wantage NJ where it has been held since 2001. It is here that the colleagues, friends, and students of Master Jou and of all methods and styles of Chinese internal arts come to share and celebrate the teachings of the late world-renowned author and T'ai Chi Grandmaster Jou, Tsung Hwa (1917-1998). Hundreds come and gather to honor his teachings as well as share their experiences and skills with others.

We cordially invite you to attend our FREE online festival where renowned teachers of Chinese internal martial and healing arts will share their energy and expertise with you. Many of these teachers who have presented their instructions in past years at the Tai Chi Park will be conducting live online workshops. These are programs from which you can actually learn and enjoy the benefits of their skills and knowledge. If you are a beginner, student or teacher on the Chinese martial arts then please come join us.
